Nanking Government Ordered to Bow to North China Demands

TUESDAY IS SET AS THE DEADLINE

Ask Withdrawal of Chinese Troops from North China Province

(By Associated Press)

TOKYO, June 8.—Japan's war machine in Manchoukuo was reported in press dispatches ordered today to prepare for an invasion of China unless the Chinese government submitted to Tokyo's ultimatum.

Tuesday was reported to be the day by which China must act. A Rengo dispatch from Hsinking, Manchoukuo, said that orders to Japan's war machine in Manchoukuo in readiness to roll southward across the great wall if China fails to submit to the ultimatum were issued today from the general headquarters of Gen. Jiro Minami, Japanese military chief in Manchoukuo.

"Important Orders" Issued

The dispatch said a midnight council meeting of Minami's staff was held and that afterward Lieut. Gen. Jiro Nishio, after consulting with War Minister Hayashi, now in Hsinking, issued "important orders." The military authorities agreed, the dispatch said, that these orders concerned preparation to "assume the initiative in the unfortunate event that the Chinese fail to display sincerity and good faith," as the Japanese phrase goes.

Vernacular newspaper dispatches from China reported that Japan has fixed Tuesday, June 11, as the day by which the Nanking government must bow to the imperial government's North China demands.

A spokesman for the foreign office declined to comment except to say the demands still are secret and that a "final note" handed to Chinese authorities at Peiping by a Japanese army representative could not be considered an ultimatum.

Ask Recognition

Major General Rensuke Isogai, Japanese military attaché at Tientsin, said one of the Japanese army demands is that China recognize the new empire of Manchoukuo, wrested from China by Japanese.

"We seek a solution of all Chinese-Japanese problems, including that of the puppet regime," by that latter phrase I mean China's recognition of the new empire."

A Rengo dispatch from Peiping said the Japanese note insists on the removal of all Chinese military organizations from Hopei province as the only method of "maintaining real peace and order on the frontiers of China, Manchoukuo and Japan."

Therefore, the dispatch said, the note demanded the withdrawal from the northern province, first, of all troops belonging to the Nanking government; second, of all units of Gen. Chiang Hsueh Liang's former Manchurian army; third, the Peiping branch of the national military council over which Ho Ying Chin presides. The note further demanded the dissolving of the Blueshirt society throughout China.

Settlement Rumored

A Reuters news agency dispatch to London from Nanking said a settlement of the critical Sino-Japanese dispute in North China had been reported after a conference between Ho Ying Chin and Japanese.

Form Voters League

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Ohio Voters' league is being organized to make sure that several hundred Ohio Democrats, working in Washington, vote in the next elections. About 200 Ohioans are behind the organization. Herbert P. Patten, Cleveland, secretary to U. S. Senator Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, was named chairman of the group.

THE LARGER OBJECTIVES

Explaining the policy of continuing NRA in a skeletonized form, a White House statement recorded that "the government should take a practical and definite step to show its good faith in maintaining the larger objectives sought by NRA." This will be done by forcing firms doing government work to observe certain principles embodied in the recovery act, such as maximum hour and child labor standards.

"The larger objectives sought by NRA"—what were they? One was to restrain shortsighted competition of the cut-throat variety. One was to establish minimum wage and maximum hour standards in the fundamental industries, thereby spreading employment. In general, the purpose of NRA was to bring about an orderly reform of business practices which had come into use as a result of the depression.

There was virtually universal favor for the original purpose of NRA. Nevertheless, the idea collapsed months before the supreme court finally got around to the question of its constitutionality. Why?

Most explanations run to the effect there was something wrong with the idea. That means it must have been a bad idea at the beginning, and few honest Americans who remember "the larger objectives" as they saw them in the summer of 1933 will admit as much. They will admit, however, there was something seriously wrong with the execution of the idea. It was bureaucracy which failed, not "the larger objectives" of the original national recovery program.

NRA was smothered with trivialities. It tried to regulate so many things at once it got lost in the acres of office space it occupied. It gave bureaucratic meddlers a chance to do their worst, and they did it. They succeeded gloriously in convincing the country it couldn't trust a central government to straighten out its affairs. If President Roosevelt really can do it, he will get an audience for a skeletonized NRA devoted to "the larger objectives" of the recovery program which caused so much excitement two years ago.

FLOOD AS WELL AS DROUGHT

The same country which deplored drought is now deploring flood. A few weeks ago its soil was being carried aloft by dust storms. Today, what is left of the soil is being washed away by torrents and unruly rivers that have broken out of their channels.

There is more to the contrast than proof that nature runs to extremes. It drives home forcefully the lesson which is being learned painfully on the middle western plains. Men who have made a living from the land are reaping the unforeseen harvest of their own shortsightedness.

They have cleared vast areas of land for cultivation with little or no thought of conserving it for permanent use. They did it, not maliciously but ignorantly, being unable to comprehend the effect of their individual acts when multiplied a million times. They lacked the benefit of guidance.

In a time of drought there is insufficient vegetation to hold their dusty acres in place. When rain falls in abundance, it is not held back by roots, but rushes precipitately to the river valleys, causing floods. Farmers who have witnessed both disasters in the last few months do not need to be told what is wrong. Obviously, unless farming practices can be revised, they are going to lose their land.

The government, as well as it can, is trying to provide guidance. Using relief funds in part, it is instructing farmers in proper methods of cultivation. The process will be long and tedious. There may be more droughts and more floods, but eventually the United States may be able to claim it has undone the damage to its land it allowed its citizens to do in the past so blindly.

THE STARS SAY

For Sunday, June 9

Sunday's horoscope is a rather contradictory one, with matters relating to the church and clergy under fair auspices, but others beset with doubt, confusion and unsettlement. Employment is in jeopardy and friends and strangers, as well, may be held at bay for the nonce. Seek Sabbath solitude.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by a year of doubt, confusion, perplexity and unsettlement, with many treacherous or suspicious situations suddenly precipitated.

A child born on this day may be restless, original and fond of the unusual and novel, which should be directed into expression in research or invention.

For Monday, June 10

Monday's astrological forecast hints a mental aptitude to clear up past confusions and bafflements. Unique, novel and original slants or strategic points of view soon may dispose of yesterday's doubts and perplexities. But beware of slander and sign papers cautiously.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a brilliantly keen mental state to cope successfully with existing perplexities and confusions. Unusual or original points of view may clear many bad situations. A child born on this day may have a brilliant mind and unusual talents, leaning toward invention and science. It may be a glib speaker, and given to expediency unless properly trained in youth.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, June 8—Purely personal piffle: I never wanted to go to school until I passed 30. Tail-chasing puppy name. Michael Carmichael Carr. I refuse to lend autographed books and removing scissors from my desk has incited me to my greatest furies. Grand combination: Watermelon and ginger snaps.

Rebecca West tops all descriptions of Sinclair Lewis with: "A red-haired, raw-boned, starting Jack-in-the-box." S. S. Van Dyne looks as a writer of murder mysteries should—Mephistophelean. Most courteous boxer: Tony Canzoneri. Most astonishing memory: Irvin Cobb's.

The best simile of the year was in "Six Gothic Tales" but cannot be repeated in a family gazette. Alexander Woolcott is very proud of his singing voice. He's a baritone! Wolcott Gibbs, a New Yorker editor, hates every manuscript before reading it. Minor enthusiasm: Admiral Byrd.

Herbert Bayard Swope wears a skull cap while making his toilet to keep his hair plastered down. And there's Marc Connelley, very bald, who always has two large military brushes on his dresser. Deems Taylor along with other accomplishments, is an expert on typography and cabinet making.

Another talented: Russell Bennett. He can hear a tune once and score it for full orchestra. Arthur Samuels is rarely stumped when asked to play any tune mentioned. Mrs. H. L. Mencken, whose writing name is Sara Haardt, has one of the finest antique china pin box collections. Least style conscious of the stage ladies: Ethel Merman.

The last time W. C. Fields played on Broadway he was presented with an electric refrigerator for his dressing room by Rae Dooley. It cost him $200 a week to keep it stocked for droppers-in. People with teeth wide apart fascinate me. Watch this Republican dark horse for the next nomination: Gov. Landon, of Kansas.

Harry Leon Wilson quit drinking coffee for two years, then one morning downed in a row six cups of a hefty brew and did feel elegant! Many non-coffee drinkers get woozy on a single cup. Frank Shuts, Miami editor, is one of the most frequently mentioned in Arthur Brisbane's column. I never knew a writer who did not resent frank criticism of his work. Never criticize a writer adversely, even at his own request—if you want his friendship. There's no better description than "The Old Gent" for a type of father. Paul Whiteman always refers to himself as the fiddler.

Slam interests me least of all countries. Will Hays winds up every dinner with a cup of scalding tea. Impossible gesture: A star bowing out at the top. The most interesting letters are from a fellow who has been writing steadily for 14 years without selling a line. But has no thought of quitting. Most oddly named Suburb: Mamaroneck. Crack hotelier: John Horgan.

Simile: "As talkative as a radio repair man." Add distinctive coiffures: Anna Roosevelt Boettiger. Authors whose books I never finish: Edgar Wallace, Phyllis Bentley, Ruby M. Ayres and Vicki Baum. Scooty name: Katherine Brush. Incurable wanderers: Floyd Gibbons, Frazier Hunt and Tommy Millard. If asked to select the most hospitable cities in America, I'd choose Los Angeles, San Francisco, New Orleans and Houston. The deepest tan I've seen this season was acquired in Central Park.

After all, a turtle is stream-lined. Once a year Verne Porter and I spend an evening in the tent-camp dance halls. And have we begun to puff! Tarnished halos for 1935: Mae West, Max Baer and the Dean Brothers. At 25 an inch wide feather of white streaked through my hair in a week's time. A sundown walk among the Trinity grave stones gave me my worst fit of ork-orks. Bill Corum in a fanciful mood often hits a high in columning. I have not failed to drive through the Bowery at least once a week so long as I can remember.

Unforgettable exquisite foolery: Frank Sullivan's essays on Aunt Sarah Gallup; Frank Tinney talking to the orchestra leader; Florence Moore in the first Music Hall shows; Ring Lardner's early You Know Me Al stories and Frank Fay in those long runs at the Palace. The most sensational murders in 1-2-3 order: Pearl Bryan, Stanford White and Herman Rosenthal. I can sit for an hour gabbing with the counterman in an all night lunch. You know, talk kinda tough and things.

Devalued Dollar Draws European Tourists to U. S.

These scenic highlights mecca of foreign visitors.

Devaluation of the dollar has brought about a sharp increase in the number of foreign visitors to United States. The annual migration of Americans abroad this summer promises to be matched by a flow of tourist trade from Europe to view scenic highlights on the American continent. Traveling has been made 40 per cent cheaper for the foreign visitor to United States as a result of the change in exchange values. The flow of European tourist trade to American shores was stimulated by the Century of Progress at Chicago last year. Steamship lines and tourist agencies anticipate an even greater number of foreign visitors this summer. * It is estimated that 50 per cent more travelers will cross the Atlantic from France, Germany and Italy this year than did in 1934. Some of the scenic highlights of curiosity to the foreigner are shown above.

Snake-Bite Danger

MOST OF us dread the thought of a "snake-bite." It is particularly distressing to the city dweller. In the country the people are not so fearful of snakes because they are more familiar with their habits and know how to avoid snakes. Fortunately, poisonous snakes are not commonly found in this country, as they are in the more wild and rugged sections of the world like India, Africa, and the tropics.

Dr. Copeland

Nearly 150 species of snakes are found in the United States and Canada, of which only 15 or 20 per cent are poisonous. You may be surprised to learn that the remaining 85 per cent of snakes are really beneficial to the community. They help eradicate certain types of destructive rodents which do great harm and often carry infectious diseases.

Know Treatment

It is important for anyone who is to indulge in the pleasure of camping, hiking, fishing or hunting this summer to familiarize himself with the emergency treatment of snake-bite.

A small emergency kit for the treatment of snake-bite may be obtained at the drug store. It is a good plan to add this to your vacation equipment. Then if you are confronted with the problem of treating a snake-bite while in some rural section where medical assistance is not available you are prepared to give the important first aid treatment.

The first thing to do if bitten by a snake is to apply a "tourniquet" above the bite. The tourniquet can be made from a belt, an elastic garter, a necktie or bandage. This retards the flow of blood which carries the poison through the body.

What to Do

If medical treatment is not available make an incision through the two punctures made by the snake's fangs. First sterilize the knife by boiling in hot water or by holding it in the flame of the fire or of a match. After the wound has been cut suck out the poison. The venom of a poisonous snake is harmless if swallowed. But if there is the slightest abrasion of any kind in the mouth or on the lips, then sucking is dangerous because the poison may be absorbed into the system.

In addition to the first aid measures I have mentioned it is important to give an "antivenom serum." This serum neutralizes any poison which enters the circulation. The doctor will attend to this.

Services In Our Churches

EMMANUEL AMERICAN LUTHERAN

291 South Broadway. Rev. John Bauman, pastor; Frank Hoprich, Sunday school superintendent.

Pentecost

"The Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things." John 14:26.

"But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come unto you; and ye shall be witnesses unto me . . . unto the uttermost part of the earth." Acts 1:8.

On Sunday, the Christian church will observe the Pentecostal festival. All too frequently the people of our generation forget the significant message of this festival day, which not only marks the birthday of the first Christian church at Jerusalem and the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon those gathered there, but also gives assurance that the spirit of God is still leading the people of our day into broader fields of activity and offering them a larger conception of life with its opportunities and responsibilities. We are all in need of a rebaptism from on high. Therefore let us not fail to be present at the special Pentecostal service on Sunday and be filled with the spirit of joy, peace, enthusiasm and consecration.

"Come, Holy Spirit, come; Let thy bright beams arise Dispel the sorrow from our minds. The darkness from our eyes."

"Dwell, Spirit, in our hearts; Our minds from bondage free; Then shall we know, and praise, and love The Father, Son, and Thee."

Sunday school at 9 a. m. The pastor's Bible class meets at 9:15. Divine worship services at 10. The pastor will preach a special Pentecostal sermon. The theme of the sermon is "The Pentecostal Plan." You are invited to come to the house of worship and pray with the host of others: "Come, Holy Spirit, come!"

German services at 11 a. m. For this service the theme is "The Birthday of the Christian Church." On Monday evening the trustees of the church will meet at 7:30 in the pastor's study.

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 the Ladies' Aid will meet in the church.

Friday evening at 7:30 the choir will rehearse.

St. John A. M. E. East Third st., near Hawley ave. J. B. Cooper, minister; Roy Clarke, superintendent of Sabbath school; 9:45 a. m. to 11 a. m., study period. International uniform; the subject, "The Holy Spirit"; the Pentecost lesson, John 16:7-11, Romans 8:10-27. The Golden Text, "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the Sons of God," Romans 8:14.

Evidently some are not under the guiding influence of the Holy Spirit. This is the class who are act the horrible crimes that are broadcasted daily throughout the world. Those who are led by Him are kept from temptation, are kept from evil.

11 a. m., message of exhortation — "Where Art Thou?" Genesis 3:9. There's a reason "why," you are where you are. Adam found himself a "cast out" from the Garden of Eden, because he had unmade himself in the secret chambers of his thought. Is God's Holy Comforter keeping your thought channel pure and clear?

4 p. m., Vesper hour, evangelistic message, "If ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live." Romans 8:13.

We are not discussing a question of salvation, but a living in the flesh. The fleshly life is condemned in the "believer"—provisions for a life in the Spirit is complete.

5:30, Christian Endeavor. Miss Christian Slayden-Davis, presiding. Topic, Psalm 119, discussion.

The Children's day exercises will be rendered Sunday.

At the Vesper hour, 4 p. m. Sunday, Miss Sadie Saxon, will conduct the music.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is: "Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world." (Acts 15:18).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." (Heb. 4:12).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christian Scientist, understanding scientifically that all is Mind, commences with mental causation, the truth being, to destroy the error. This collective is an alternative, reaching to every part of the human system. According to Scripture, it searches 'joints and marrow,' and it restores the harmony of man."

HOLY TRINITY ENGLISH LUTHERAN

East State st. at Woodland ave. Rev. George D. Keister, pastor.

The Festival of Pentecost—Whit Sunday.

Sunday school at 9:45 (Romans 8:10-27); Lewis Hirst, Supt. The Holy Spirit is the Third Person of the Trinity God, equal with the Father and the Son. The work of the Christian Church began in real earnest after the Holy Spirit was received by his disciples on the day of Pentecost, fifty days after Easter. The Holy Spirit has the power to bring about a deeper sense of sense to the human heart. That is very seriously needed. We are in need of a truer conception of righteousness. The Holy Spirit can give us that. We are called, gathered and enlightened by the Holy Spirit and the work of sanctification is also carried on in us through His influence.

Children's day program with sermonette by the pastor in Sunday school room at 10:30.

The Holy Spirit is called the comforter. He was sent by Jesus to the disciples. His work was to teach and instruct in the work of the kingdom of which these men were much in need of instruction. This gift, and descent of the Holy Spirit upon these men made them lovers of strength as they went out into the various places of labors. The progress and advancement of the Christian Church is ample proof of the guiding and leading force of the Holy Spirit in our day. The conviction of sin under which some people are brought is evidence of the lively working of this Third Person of the Holy Trinity. Pentecost was a day of power years ago. It has not lost its influence and strength today.

Gentleman Jim

THOSE who play hunches and believe in the potency of hocus pocus should be advised to place a buck or two on James J. Braddock to win the heavyweight championship from Max Baer next Thursday night at Madison Square Garden.

Luck has been riding with James J. ever since he stepped into the ring a 1-to-2 short-end against Corn Griffin in six-round preliminary to the Baer-Carnera brawl last year.

The likeable Irish veteran's rise from a worn-out preliminary fighter to the position of ranking heavyweight challenger in the space of less than a year is surely one of the most amazing tales of sport history; a story which would be labelled as incredible if you read it in the form of fiction.

Braddock, out of shape and with ailing hands, got up off the floor to take Griffin; and on the strength of this was awarded the dubious privilege of meeting John Henry Lewis, sensational colored knockout artist from the west.

James J. had engaged in but three rounds of fighting in more than 14 months when he took on the colored cloutier, and he was really in no condition to battle such a formidable foe.

The Jerseyman put Lewis on the deck a couple of times, but Lady Luck had to come to his aid in order for him to win the verdict, since if Lewis hadn't been penalized for two accidental low blows it was more than likely that the Coast Negro would have been given the nod.

Luck was with James again in his next bout, for his opponent, Art Lasky, went into the fight with a badly bruised left hand. Even after beating Lasky, Braddock wouldn't have gotten the title shot, if various complications and commission orders hadn't forced Carnera and Schmeling out of the picture.

Then, too, there is the Garden Bowl Jinx, which has never failed to put the hex on every champion who has fought in the arena. That hoodoo will be on the lucky Irishman's side tomorrow.

ESPINOSA LEADS
5 OHIO GOLFERSAkron Champion In '32
Still Threatens Tourney Leaders

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Swarthy Al Espinosa of Akron led Ohio golfers in a last-ditch battle today for honors in the national open tournament at the Oakmont course here.

Five strokes out of first place, with 151—Espinosa was in fifth place when the links artists got under way for the final 36-hole title drive this morning.

Back of him in various stages were four other Buckeye survivors of a contingent of 15 who blasted their way for two days over the trick, trap-laden layout.

Ted Luthy, Youngstown, with 156; Phil Herkins, Willoughby, 159; M. J. McCarthy, Cleveland, 160; and Billy Burke, Cleveland, 161, were still in the running, but given little chance to win out.

Espinosa '32 Champ
The consistent shooting of Espinosa, Ohio champion in 1932 and 1933, gave him a serious consideration among the leaders, headed by blond Jimmy Thompson of Long Beach, Calif.

A former Columbus, O., professional, Denny Shute, ex-British open title-bearer and now of Chicago, was tied with Espinosa at the half-way point in the championship grind.

Lloyd Gullickson, Cleveland, Ohio champion last year, failed to qualify for finish rounds when he shot 168, and Bill Roach of Madeira, who led Ohio's qualifiers, had 173.

Other members of the Buckeye brigade
Frank Gehlot, Cincinnati, 163; J. W. Kenney, Sylvania, 163; Bob Servis, Dayton, 164; O. M. Transue, Canton, 164; Carmen Bill, East Cleveland, 167; Wilson Crain, Massillon, 167; Ed S. Kerby, Fairlawn, 168; and Alfred Sargent, Toledo, 174.

YOUNGSTOWN, June 8.—George H. Russell of North Jackson, O., won the state handicap trapshoot match here yesterday.

C. W. Green of Toledo won second place in a shootoff after tying with George Cady of Niles, at 94. In the shootoff Green scored 23 out of 25, Cady 19.

28-Year-Old Scot Holds Two-Stroke Advantage of His Closest Pursuer, Alvin Krueger, Beloit Pro

By BOB CAVAGNARO, Associated Press Sports Writer.
OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Jimmy Thompson, the 28-year-old Scot who has done most of his golfing in the United States, stood closest to the national open title today as 66 players—60 professionals and six amateurs—turned into the 36-hole finale of one of the most topsy-turvy tournaments in the 39-year history of the links fixture.

The survivors of an original starting field of 157 included the defending champion, Olin Dutra, six former winners of the title and two of an original seven-man foreign invasion—Sid Brews of South America and Kanehichi Nakamura of Japan.

Tommy Armour of Chicago, winner of the crown in the 1927 battle at Oakmont, withdrew before completing his second round.

Thompson's two preliminary rounds of 73s, good for a total of 146, gave him a two-stroke advantage over his closest pursuer, Alvin (Dutch) Krueger, the comparatively unknown pro from Beloit, Wis., who led the first round with a sub-par 71. The pace-setting Jimmy also held a three-stroke margin over Gene Sarazen, the hottest pre-tournament choice and betting odds favorite.

Thompson and Sarazen were the only players among the first 29 low scorers of the first round to improve their positions in yesterday's firing, which for the most part was carried on under punishing conditions brought about by a wind of terrific force and a heavy downpour of rain shortly after noon. Jimmy and Gene benefitted by playing in the forenoon when conditions are ideal.

The elements, plus a bad run of golf, forced Armour to quit on the 15th hole after he had amassed no less than 17 strokes over par for that distance. The same combination also took a toll of such campaigners as Willy Cox and Leo Diegel, who failed to make the grade for the qualifying quota of 161 for the first two rounds.

Within Close Range
Sarazen was the only favorite who was figured to be within striking distance of the blond, curly-haired Thompson. Sam Parks, Pittsburgh pro, was four shots away from the top figure with 150 while Denny Shute of Philadelphia, winner of the 1933 British open crown, Al Espinosa of Akron, and Ted Turner of Pine Valley, N. J., were bracketed at 151.

Dutra, who was Thompson's companion on an exhibition tour the last two months, was seven strokes back at 153 along with Paul Runyan, American professional champion and one of the favorites, and Victor Ghezzi of Deal, N. J.
In between that trio were Horton Smith of Chicago, Vincent Eldred of Pittsburgh, Mortie Dutra of Detroit, Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles and Herman Barron of New York, with 152s. Bobby Cruikshank of Richmond, Va., stood at 154. Former champion Johnny Goodman of Omaha, the low amateur thus far, Johnny Revolta of Milwaukee, Gene Kunes of Jeffersonville, Pa., and George Von Elm of Los Angeles had 155s.

Cincinnati Reds Play Inspired Ball,
Hand Pittsburgh Pirates 13-4 Defeat

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Associated Press Sports Writer.
The Cincinnati Reds undoubtedly have missed the clouting of Chick Hafey as well as his steady influence since the veteran outfielder was taken sick a month ago yet it may have been more than a coincidence that his abrupt departure from the scene of their activities coincided with the end of their seven-game losing streak.

Whether or not they were peeved about Chick's unannounced decision to return to California in search of better health, the Reds pounded the ball like an inspired club yesterday as they blasted out a 13-4 seven-inning victory over Pittsburgh's Pirates and returned the losers to third place in the National league standing.

Wholesale Assault
Every member of the team except Pitcher Paul Derringer took part in the assault which netted 15 hits, before rain halted the activities after the seventh. He did his share by scattering eleven buccannier blows for his seventh victory of the season. Low Riess and Adam Comorosky led the assault with three hits each.

Chicago's White Sox protected second place from the Cleveland and Detroit threats as they edged out the Tigers 9 to 8 while the Yankees dropped a 2 to 1 mound battle to the Red Sox and the Indians-Browns game was washed out.

The Senators continued their new winning streak by scoring six runs in the seventh and bowling over the Athletics 11 to 6.

Sunday will bring more county league baseball with the Salem Merchants, no longer in the cellar position but still too close for comfort, facing the Sebring Merchants. Grocers on the Lake Placencia diamond.

The two clubs will play there because the Lakes will be at East Palestine for a game.

East Liverpool, league leaders, will entertain Kensington and Lisbon will play at Salineville to round out the day's activities.

A meeting of the county teams was held Friday night in the city hall at Lisbon, at which time the club managers cut down their squads to 16 players. Other matters were discussed at the confab, which was called by President Tom Cartwright of East Liverpool.

Helen Wills In Tennis Finals

Former American Champion Faces Defending Titlist In England

(By Associated Press)

WEYBRIDGE, Eng., June 8.—Helen Wills Moody apparently proposes to resume her old habit of walking off with tennis titles.

The former American champion, in competition for the first time since she defeated Helen Jacobs in the American championship in 1933, today faced Mrs. Elsie Goldsack Pittman, defending titlist in the St. George's Hill tournament.

The comely Helen gained the final round yesterday when she gave an exhibition that obviated further queries about the condition of her back, in defeating Billy Yorke, the English chop stroke artist, 6-1, 6-4.

Miss Wills' play had been more or less uninspiring until yesterday and the galleries were wondering whether she still favored the injury which caused her to default to Miss Jacobs. Against Miss Yorke, however, she unleashed the power that formerly featured her game and swept the English miss before her as applause broke from the astonished gallery.

Meanwhile, at Wimbledon, polishing her game for the coming all-England championships, Helen Jacobs was appraised of the progress of her old rival. They were expected to meet in that tournament.

Stadium Plans
Changed Around

WELLSVILLE, June 8.—The board of education today forwarded revised plans for a stadium to be erected at Nicholson field, the high school sports center, to state PWA officials at Columbus.

The board previously asked a $45,000 allocation of PWA funds for the erection of bleachers on two sides of the field, providing seating accommodations for 4,500 persons.

The revised program, approved by Columbusiana County Works Division Manager William Owington, of Lisbon, was accepted by the authorities at a session recently.

Omaha Favored
In Belmont Race

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, June 8.—William Woodward's Omaha, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, came up to the $50,000 Belmont stakes at Belmont park today with the chance to duplicate the feat of his famous sire, Gallant Fox, and Sir Barton, the only two horses ever to win the "triple crown" of the American turf.

An easy victor in both the Derby and the Preakness but beaten by William Dupont's Rosemont in the one mile of the Withers, the Woodward colt was a 3 to 5 choice to lead five other three-year-olds, including his Conqueror, over the one and one-half miles.

AL LARSEN, Doerfer-Knocked in five runs against Phillies with three hits.

RIP RADCLIFF, White Sox—Led a tack on Tiger pitchers with four singles.

ROY PARMELEE, Giants—Outlasted Ben Cantwell in pitching duel and scored tenth-inning run that beat Braves 3-2.

CECIL TRAVIS, Senators—Rapid Athletics' pitching for three hits.

SAM BYRD, Reds—Clouted home run and single, driving in three runs in triumph over Pirates.

BABE DAHLGREN, Red Sox—Hit triple, double and single for perfect day at bat against Yankees.

Bargains are plentiful. The ads. will tell you where.

Braddock Works Hard
For His Fight With
Baer Next Thursday

On the Other Hand, Clowning Max Does Little or No Hard Training at His Asbury Park Camp

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.
LOCH SHELDRAKE, N. Y., June 8.—No two modern heavyweight ever more clearly portrayed the opposite extremes in prize fighting methods than James J. Braddock, the challenger, and Max Baer, the champion, matched for 15 rounds next Thursday night in Madison Square Garden's big bowl on Long Island.

Baer, clowning his way through mediocre workouts at Asbury Park, N. J., does little or no hard training. Braddock, on the other hand, has all the way back to the earliest days of pugilism, when desperate day battles, hours of plodding over country roads, gruelling, punishing work was considered the only real method of getting in o' top condition.

There hasn't been a man in the heavyweight title picture since Jack Dempsey who labored as long and earnestly as Braddock. He runs five or sometimes 10 miles through the Catskill hills every morning. His daily boxing fare for weeks has been eight rounds of slugging against the biggest, roughest sparring partners he can find, a fresh one facing him for each round with only a few seconds rest in between.

Braddock's sparring partners are hurled onto him with instructions to batter away with both hands every second of every round, and the big Irishman, reveling in it, slugs head to head and toe to toe with them.

Baer's workouts are like 4 o'clock tea time at the Ritz compared to the Pier 8 brawls Braddock chooses. Max struts and grins, displaying his magnificent physique, chatting with the 50 cent customers, playing a casual patty-cake with his helpers, obviously holding the challenger lightly and expecting to finish him in a round or two. Braddock, the 1 to 5 short-end, has to fight for his life.

One thing is certain if Braddock does win the title Thursday night, challengers and champions will train for the next few years like marathon runners in the morning, like pit gladiators in the afternoon.

PAIR LEADING
MAJOR BATTERS

Johnson (Athletics) and Vaughn (Pirates) Hold Batting Supremacy

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 8.—Bob Johnson of the Athletics and Arky Vaughn of Pittsburgh continued to resist all challenges to their batting supremacy in the major leagues during the past week but the real interests in the struggle during the past seven days came from the efforts of some of their lower-ranking rivals to overtake them.

Johnson brought his average up two points to 466 after yesterday's games, during ten innings in 24 attempts, during the week while Vaughn dropped a point to the even 400 level with five blows in 13 times up.

On the other hand Joe Medwick of the Cardinals registered a big gain for the second straight week, picking up 25 points for a 347 average to take third place in the National League's list of leading "regulars". Johnson's rookie teammate, Wally Moses, moved into second place in the junior circuit at 357 closely followed by Detroit's consistent Charley Gehringer.

CRITICS PROBE NEW NRA PLAN

House Gives Approval; Chairman Richberg Quits Post

Representative O'Connor (D. N. Y.) sprang to the defense with the declaration:

"The NRA is not dead. We will not let it die. It is not a political issue, and the Lord help those who try to make it one."

Today, however, Senator King said he did not "see any necessity for continuing this organization."

"I have no objection to voluntary agreements, but if there is to be any relaxation of the anti-trust laws, it should be under the supervision of the federal trade commission rather than NRA."

Labor Carries on Fight Meanwhile the American Federation of Labor carried to the country its fight for a new NRA bill it is drafting. In a radio address last night, President William Green said it would be "based upon a licensing plan for corporations engaged in the manufacture and production of goods and commodities which flow into and are shipped in interstate commerce."

Unless "chiselers" are curbed, he held, there will be "strife, strikes, and industrial conflict." He envisioned a return of "the evils of child labor, unfair trade practices, the sweatshop and sweatshop conditions, declining wages, excessive hours and inhuman conditions of employment."
